- Special thank-you to Gail Leach for putting flowers in the flower boxes on the bridge.

City Village Report:

Leo Bonola, First Deputy: – (a) I am planning on helping with the Memorial Day Parade. Anyone can volunteer if they would like. (b) Frank Owsianko has a bell (weighing about 100 pounds) that he would like to donate to Veterans Park. In the past it was used to start the parade. Post 209 has offered to assist in raising money for placement costs. F.V.A. will look at it and report to members for further discussion.

Rick Leach, Vice President: - The Manross Library held a special presentation sponsored by Bristol Public Library, Connecticut Humanities and American Legion Post 209, about book author Craig Grossi, a U.S. Marine and Afghanistan veteran who brought home a dog after they had found each other. The book is titled, Craig & Fred: A Marine, A Stray Dog and How They Rescued Each Other.

John Gianoni, Pine Lake: – The 8th Annual Fishing Derby was held, in the rain as usual. The number of participants was a little lower due to the weather, but still over 120 fish were caught.

F.V.A. Scholarship – The F.V.A. Scholarship was presented by committee members Maryellen Holden and Sandy Gozzo to recipient Emily Levesque, who was present with her parents Christine and Dave Levesque. Congratulations to Emily!
